

IN OGDEN'S SOCIETY CIRCLES

Miss Dora Smith.

Miss Dora Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Smith of this city and who has been assistant librarian at the Carnegie library for some time, is to leave Ogden Monday evening for Chicago where she will study violin under Professor Ludwig Becker of the Columbia School of Music. Miss Smith is considered one of the talented violinists of the state and her absence will be regretted although a host of friends are delighted that her keen desire for advancement is to be realized. Miss Smith was to have appeared in the Freber recital to be held at the Ogden Conservatory of Music Tuesday evening and many Ogden admirers regret that she will not appear.

Next Tuesday evening at the Ogden Conservatory of Music Adam Freber, one of the most capable instructors in violin in the state, will present a number of his pupils in recital. The program will begin at 8:30 o'clock and the general public is invited. Following are the numbers to be given and the pupils to appear on the program:

1. Hejre Kati Hubay Charles Guernsey.
2. Andante Religiosa Thorne Annette Cunningham.
3. Aragonaise Massenet Mary Pearce.
4. (a) Berceuse Grieg Lawrence McKay.
5. Ave Maria Wilhelm-Schubert LeRoy Winter.
6. (a) Serenade Melancholique Tchaikowski Erma Graves.
7. Mazurka Vausin George Young.
8. Introduction and Canto Capriccioso Saint-Saens Mary Fisher.
9. Fantasia Appassionata Saint-Saens Mary Fisher.

Viewpoints
Mary Parmley.

CLUB Calendar

Drama Club Plays Well Received.
Among the delightful events provided at the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Utah Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Salt Lake City this week, was the presentation, Monday evening, under the supervision of Mrs. Andrew T. Clark and the Drama Club of Ogden, of two one-act plays and a musical program. That the event was enjoyed was evidenced by the outbursts of applause from the appreciative audience that filled the auditorium to its capacity. "The Exchange" was the title of a clever farce comedy written by Mrs. Alden Thurston of Salt Lake City and

Mrs. Claude Keyes.

On Wednesday evening of this week a pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Colwell Martin of Morgan, Utah, when their daughter, Miss Olive Colwell, became the bride of Mr. Claude Keyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keyes of Ogden.

Mr. Keyes has recently returned from France, where he saw service for twelve months with the 48th battery of the quartermaster's corps. Mr. and Mrs. Keyes are to leave shortly for Seattle, Washington, where they are to spend their honeymoon. They will make their home in Ogden upon their return from the northwest.

was well cared for by the following players:

- The Judge (The Exchange of Miseries) Mr. D. E. Sullivan
The Imp (Office Boy of the Judge) Mr. D. E. Sullivan
The Poor Man Mr. Raymond Ryan
The Rich Man Mr. Raymond Ryan
The Vain Woman Mr. Hat Farr
The Vain Woman Mr. Hat Farr

Directed by Mr. D. E. Sullivan. Each is deserving of the highest commendation for their excellent characterization of the parts. "Lonesome-Like," by Harold Brighouse, formed the second part of the evening's entertainment. Each of the players seemed especially adapted to their respective parts. Mrs. Lila Eccles Brimhall played the part of the old English lady, who had lost her worldly goods and was preparing to go to the work house, and in the impersonation as an experienced actress, Miss Minnie Moore Brown, in the girl from the factory who called to cheer the old lady in her distress, brought forth peels of applause in the wonderful ease with which she played. Henry Anderson, with his usual ability, took the part of Sam Horrocks, the big-hearted factory hand who saved his mother's friend from the work house.

For the first time since his return home, Raymond Ryan was seen to advantage as "The Poor Man," adding much strength to the other players. A trio composed of Mrs. George Barlow, pianist; Miss Helen Hunter, cellist, and Miss Mae Anderson of Salt Lake, violinist, rendered several beautiful numbers on the program.

As an outgrowth of the presentation of this Utah play, the federation offered a cash prize of $25 for the best play written by Utah talent during the coming year. "Little Theatres" are springing up in various parts of the country and are coming to foster an expression of the lives and hearts of the nation's people, and it is out of such expression that will come our real art.

Ogden has an unusual amount of natural talent that should be used and encouraged in the presentation of dramatics. Many traveling companies do not have talent that is more capable of reproducing plays to the real entertainment of audiences than the players who took part in the Drama club's two performances at Salt Lake.

S. O. H. Club.
The S. O. H., a newly organized club, met at the home of Mrs. Ruth C. Junke served a delicious luncheon at five o'clock. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brown, 2215 Madison avenue, Friday, October 25.

Royal Purple Club.
The ladies of the Royal Purple club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Nettie Shafer at her home on Harrisville avenue Monday evening at 8 o'clock. All are invited to be present.

Presbyterian Bazaar.
Each year the ladies of the Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church, numbering about one hundred, arrange and give a bazaar and dinner, and always the events are the most delightful of their kind in the city. This year the aid society is making even more plans than usual for their annual affair and the dates have been set for December 2 and 4. Mrs. Arthur D. Barber, as president of the society, states that no details will be overlooked which will tend to make the bazaar and dinner most successful. Especially entertaining features are planned.

C. E. C. Club.
The ladies of the C. E. C. club were the guests of Mrs. Paul Franke at her attractive home, 874 Bimford avenue, last Thursday afternoon. For the occasion Mrs. Franke had decorated her home with fall flowers and ferns in the library and living room, while in the dining room the table was decorated with an exquisite basket, tied with a butterfly making bow and filled with delicious fruit. Place cards in dainty design were laid for Mrs. A. Wade of Kansas City, Mrs. Mary Cuthbert of Salt Lake, Utah; Mrs. N. J. Taylor, Mrs. S. J. Van Ness, Mrs. A. Young, as guests of honor, and the following club members: Mrs. C. Osborne, Mrs. J. E. Sarver, Mrs. W. R. Spence, Mrs. Henry J. Bishoff, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, Mrs. F. J. Van Ness and Mrs. F. E. Heintzelman. The afternoon was delightfully spent at needlework, and the luncheon was especially enjoyed.

LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Peterson, of 2104 Jefferson avenue, left Ogden yesterday afternoon for southern California points of interest where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

BAZAAR AND ENTERTAINMENT.
The members of the Thirteenth ward gave an entertainment in the chapel last evening. The ladies of the ward had prepared a fine luncheon and in addition they held a bazaar where all sorts of dainties as well as some very substantial articles were on display. The affair was a success and many members of the ward and their friends attended.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.
Miss Della Roshon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Roshon, very nicely celebrated her tenth birthday last Monday afternoon. The young miss invited a number of her friends for the afternoon and all spent a merry time playing games and later a finely prepared luncheon was served. The dining table was pretty with decora-

Miss Florence Bohn.

Mr. C. E. Bohn of this city announces the engagement of his sister, Miss Florence Bohn, and Dr. Francis Joseph Drake, the wedding to occur October 23 in this city. Miss Bohn is one of the best known young women of Ogden and quite thoroughly known throughout the state. She has been an instructor in the public schools of Ogden City for a number of years and for the past year has been art supervisor in all the schools of Ogden. Dr. Drake is manager of the Utah Construction company, ranches of Nevada and a prominent business man. He is well known in Utah and Nevada. After December 1 the couple will be at home in San Jacinto, Nevada.

Lawrence Gallagher was a guest at the home of his aunt, Mrs. D. Hickey for a few days this week. Mr. Gallagher is traveling auditor for Swift & Co. His home is in Denver. A ride through Ogden canyon and to the artesian wells was very much enjoyed and proved very interesting. (Additional Society on Page 11)

Mrs. E. Grey Freemonde

Announces the Opening of Her

Studio
of Photography

At 2438 WASHINGTON AVENUE,
IN THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH BLDG.
ON WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22 1919

WHERE she will show a notable collection of photographs of Americans, both of the social and professional world. This will offer Ogden people a splendid opportunity to view at close range a work distinctly representative of the best in modern photography.

Sittings for portraits made by appointment. Telephone 1264.

Note—A studio so complete and beautiful in its appointments, as to make one's visit here fully repaid. In our operating department modern motion picture lighting equipment enables us to obtain in our portraits the splendid effects employed in the greatest studios of the screen.

Miss Mildred Pardoe.

GOOD PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPHY IS A LABOR OF HONOR.

The photograph buying public is invited to patronize an institution of honor; conducted honorably by an honorable business man.

I say what I do, I do what I say. I have the negatives of every man, woman, and child who ever sat for pictures in the studio at 416 Twenty-Fourth street. Duplicate photos can be had at low cost. Come in and sit for your photo before the Christmas rush begins.

THE RIDGES STUDIO

416 Twenty-Fourth Street. Telephone 463.
First Door East of First National Bank.

Autumn seems to be vying with early summer in the number of capital events and the calendar this month has been marked with the most interesting announcements, not the least among them being the news of the betrothal of Miss Mildred Pardoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pardoe, of 1164 Twenty-fifth street, and Arthur McGregor of Washington, D. C., and formerly of this city. The wedding of these two well-known young people is to occur early next month.